ADAM RITCHEY

The following very interesting letter has been received from Hon. John M. Lindley through Mr. Ed. Maxwell of Crawfordsville, Iowa, concerning the earliest settlers of Washington county. We are passing it on to our readers, as we are all interested in Adam Ritchey. It seems Mr. Lindley had interviewed Daniel C. Ritchey at Corning, Iowa, and the letter records this interview.

*Mr. Ritchey made no special reference to religious matters or meetings. But Mrs. Mary A. Reed whose family located in the Ritchey neighborhood in 1839 does make such mention.

Adam Ritchey and John Black and three or four others from Illinois came to Henry County, Iowa, in the winter of 1835-36 seeking a location for settlement. Their settlement seems to have included a part of Scott and Wayne townships in Henry county and the southern part of Crawford twp., in Washington county.

Daniel C. Ritchey, a boy of 16 years, drove the ox team which which turned the first furrow in that region, which was on what was later known as the Moorhead place. This plowing was done in the spring of 1836. In the fall the families of Adam Ritchey, of Matthew D. Ritchey, who had been a Colonel in the Black Hawk War, of John Maley, of Mr. Drake, of Mr. Campbell and others arrived.

Mrs. Mary A. Reed stated (in 1905) that her father and family left Indiana in August, 1839, for Iowa, generally mentioned then as "The Black Hawk Purchase". Her maiden name was Huston, and she was about 11 or 12 years old at that time, old enough to observe and to remember.

After they had been in Iowa about three weeks prospecting, they were visiting at the home of her mother's cousin, James Ellis, when they noticed wagons going by.

Her mother inquired where the people could be going, and was told they were going to a meeting. Where? Just about a mile up to Adam Ritchey's place, it being the Sabbath Day. She tapped her husband on the shoulder, and said "This is the place for me." This was the first time in Iowa she had heard of any church gatherings or meetings.

There were James, Adam, Thomas and Matthew Ritchey, brothers, who located here. They were Seceders, and their preacher, Rev. Vincent, came once a month from Monmouth to preach for them in Adam Ritchey's house, but in warm weather, "down under the elm trees near the creek west of the graveyard". Rev. Vincent was described as a "tall, nice-looking man". John Black led the singing at the Seceder meetings. "They had a Psalm Book". Daniel C. Ritchey above quoted, referred to his uncle James by saying, "James Ritchey was a good Christian man. He did not belong to church for the name of it."

The McCulley family located just north of Winfield in 1838, a United Presbyterian family who attended meeting at Adam Ritchey's house.

It is probable that numbers 4-5-6-7-8-9-10-11-12-13 and 14 died of typhoid fever the winter of 1847-48.

John McCulley told that Caroline Rithey was out on Dutch Creek, about ten miles east of Washington and took what we would now call typhoid fever, and lay there several weeks. And came home, and different members of the family took the disease. He said, "I was helping dig a grave when they sent out word that another mem-

ADAM RITCHEY.

Adam Ritchey was the first settler in Washington County, Iowa. He settled in Crawford Township, Washington County, and afterward moved over the line into Henry County, Iowa. His grave is seven miles southeast of Crawfordsville, and is about a half mile from the road on the W. I. Huston farm, in a pasture. The stone is well preserved, it stands alone, and is wired to a tree to prevent the cattle and horses in the pasture from pushing it over. It is a white marble stone and stands about three feet high.

SOME EARLY GRAVEYARDS

Washington County, Iowa

Last week we gave the inscriptions on the gravestones in the little Coffman Cemetery. In a former issue we gave inscriptions on the Pattison gravestones. (By request) We are now commencing a series of early Grave-records in this issue. In some instances we were unable to find the name by which the graveyard was known and we are anxious to get in touch with those who can supply the information. In these instances we have given the location only.

TODD CEMETERY

This abandoned cemetery is located on the Lloyd Hayes farm, directly east of the Grace
 Hill quarry in Section 31, Franklin Township.

There are about thirty graves within the enclosure, mostly marked by rude, rough stones. The following are the only grave stones we found marked.

Jeremiah, son of S. and C. Yoder died June 30, 1861, aged 13 years, 9 months, 7 days.

John H. Myer, died Aug. 9, 1856, aged 70 years.

W. C. and H. Gleson. This stone was so broken that the above is all we could copy. We will be glad for additional data from this grave yard.

 Could I with ink the ocean fill,
 And every stalk on earth a quill,
 And were the sky of parchment made,
 And every man a scribe by trade,
 To write the love of God in full
 Would drain the ocean dry. Nor could the scroll contain,
 Though stretched from ship to sky.
 Remember friends as you pass by,
 As you are now, so once was I,
 As I am now so you shall be,
 Prepare in life to follow me.

GATLIN CEMETERY

We have located the Cemetery Mr. Carl Miller wrote about in his interesting letter which was published recently and for want of the real name we are calling it the Gatlin Cemetery, as the oldest grave is Sarah Gatlin. We would like to be corrected if there is another name for it. It is located in Section No. 31, on the southern boundary of Franklin Township, Washington County, Iowa. Is it on the old Garrett Farm? There is not a stone standing but they are well preserved. We would so like to know that someone interested would see that the gravestones were raised and the lot fenced in. We are especially interested in this particular plot because there is a Comrade of the Civil War buried here and also the Gatlins, who were among the early Pioneers of the county.

Dempsey Gatlin, died May 26, 1854, in the 72nd year of his age.

Sarah, wife of Dempsey Gatlin, died Oct. 31, 1845, aged 56 years.

Benjamin F., son of D. and E. J. Gatlin, died Aug. 18, 1860, aged 1 year, 7 months, 10 days.

Isaac, son of J. D. Alkire and S. Alkire his wife, died Sept. 8, 1862, aged 6 years, 5 months, 10 days.

Tirza A. Alkire, daughter of J. D. and S. Alkire (no further record.)
